Besides providing funds for the above support, this Ministry is also providing funds at the rate of Rs. 20 per chulha for the Self Employed Workers, who are working at the grassroot levels for the installation of chulhas as well as its monitoring for one complete year. While the implementation vests on the nodal/implementing agencies in the States, there is no lack of support towards infrastrcture from the Central Government.

Since 1993-94, a policy of State sharing including for infrastructural support has been incorporated in this programme. A large number of States/UTs have responded positively. There is no complaint from any of the States/UTs/Agencies about lack of infrastructural support which can adversely affect the programme.

With Holding of Pension of Retired Employees
